"Most dear is it to us to think, that we shall lie down in our flower-crowned Cemetery, with some simple, modest, Christian inscription above us, with those hanging branches gently and whisperingly waving their requiems over our heads; while the music and the prayers, which we once loved, shall come and speak to our mouldering frames, of eternal life and eternal progress, in the Christian's promised Heaven."

Extract from Dr. Gilman's Dedication Sermon,
APRIL 2ND, 1854.

A few words will illustrate the history of the following Memorial.

In the hallowed ground of the Unitarian Church, rises, graceful in artistic beauty, a Monument, on which are inscribed the words

OUR PASTOR.

It stands a symbol of Christianity: for pointing Heaven-ward, in its white purity, through sunlight and night dew, amid storm and darkness, it is firm and unshaken. Like Christianity, too, no gloom settles at its base, though the mortal dust lies mouldering below, but cheerful blossoms spring all around, and speak of resurrection.

Many conjointly contributed to raise this Monument, comprising not only the Congregation, to whom the PASTOR consecrated his life, but others in the community, who respected and loved him for what he was to them.

On the recurrence of every holy Sabbath, when the memory of his ministrations is most vivid, gifts of flowers, in every form of loveliness, are laid upon the shrine.

Elsewhere, with a few admired exceptions, the grounds, though some years since laid out with judgment and taste, had lapsed to decay, and repulsed the observer with an overgrowth of weeds.

In the month of April last, touched with a sense of the exceeding tenderness lavished on one grave, I asked myself, Can not something be done for others, that shall correspond in part to this wealth of love? Can not some neglected surroundings, where the rank growth repels even the footsteps of kindred, be rescued and converted into beauty? Those who lie here, I thought, were like the PASTOR consigned to earth by sorrowing hearts, and bitter tears fell on their new-raised mounds; may it not soothe some distant mourner to know, that friendly hands are planting flowers, or tending the sod around their dear departed; and who shall say, that the Spirits of the blessed may not hover over and hallow the spots newly consecrated by these sacred sympathies?

I had only to communicate this feeling to members of the Congregation, to create an interest on the subject. By permission of the officers, an Association of Ladies for the improvement of the Cemetery of the Unitarian Church was formed; and now around all our sepulchres, as around that of Christ's, "there is a garden."

While engaged in the necessary labor of improvement, I had occasion, as the inscriptions on the old grave-stones were brought to light, to notice the eager interest with which they were perused, and it occurred to me that a printed collection might gratify our people. With the aid of two young friends I have accomplished my design.

These Records should not be examined simply with curiosity. There is a fact connected with them too deep and beautiful in its significance to be disregarded. Extending along a period of many years, and embracing individuals of various theological tenets, there will be found, as in the catacombs of the early Christians, scarcely the trace of a Creed. It seems as if the human mind, growing nearer to the leading simple truths of religion as it witnesses the ordeal of Death, buries its dogmas and formulas in the dust with the departed, and "worships in spirit."

The Literature of Christian burial-grounds presents a prolific field for the ingenious essayist, from the first rude but touching memorials of the secret worshippers at Rome, to the elaborate eulogies of later times, settling, at length, into the present style of strict simplicity.

So too, Art might luxuriate in the same range even in our own country, beginning with the Death's heads, and unsightly forms on old Plymouth Hill, and embracing many original and sometimes classic conceptions, scattered in solemn stillness over the land.

For the utility of private attendance on the Dwellings of the Dead, I might enter a plea, feeling sure that an organization like the one I have recorded, would exclude many abuses that have obtained in intermural burial-places. But neither Literature, Art, or even utility come within my present design. I simply commit this Memorial, as a matter of sentiment, to my fellow-worshippers.

This only do I desire, that our Cemetery may henceforth, as now, be consecrated to sacred thoughts.

That no unkind feeling may darken its beautiful bowers.

That no light or profane word may be heard within its precincts.

And let us trust, that if, with Mary of Bethany, the mourner "goes unto the grave to weep there," perchance, with Mary Magdalen, "a vision of angels" may be seen, and a voice heard saying,

"NOT HERE, BUT RISEN."

Pastors.

In Memory

Of the Rev^d. WILLIAM TENNENT, A.M.,

Pastor of this Church,

(And principally instrumental in the Erection of this building,

Dedicated to the worship

Of Almighty God;)

Who died at the High hills of Santee,

Aug. 11th, 1777,

In the 37th year of his age.

He was distinguished

For quickness of perception

And solidity of judgment;

For energy and firmness of mind;

For inflexible patriotism

And ardent public spirit;

For sincere and zealous piety;

For the boldness with which he enforced

The claims of the Deity

And vindicated the rights of man.

As a preacher he was prompt,

Solemn, instructive and persuasive.

Of every social virtue he was

A bright example.

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

Note.—The Rev. William Tennent, A.M., was born in New Jersey, 1740, invited to the pastoral charge of the Independent Church in Charleston, and arrived in 1772. He was a member of the Provincial Congress, and afterwards of the Commons House of Assembly, where he delivered a speech on the justice and policy of putting all religious denominations on an equal footing. Under the fostering zeal of Rev. Mr. Tennent, before the Revolution, the walls of a new house of worship, which had been located in Archdale Street, were completed. The Church erected a monument to his memory in their Archdale Street House of Worship, of which he was the father.—Ramsay's "History So. Ca."

By a vote of the Corporation in 1852, the "walls" of the Church were to be retained in the construction of the new edifice.—Gilman's "Farewell Address."

The Rev. ISAAC STOCKTON KEITH, D.D.,

who was born at Newtown, Bucks Co., Pennsylvania,
on the 17th January, 1755,
was educated at the New Jersey College, where he was honoured with the degree of A. B., A. D. 1775.

After having laboured eight years in his Lord's vineyard, in the Presbyterian Church at Alexandria, in Virginia, he was called to the copastoral charge of the Independent or Congregational Church in Charleston, S. C.
Of this Church he continued during a period of five and twenty years the faithful, affectionate, beloved and successful Pastor, when he was suddenly called away from his earthly labours to his heavenly rest, on the 14th Decr., 1813, Ætat 58 years 11 months.

An eminent example of every Christian virtue, he was preëminently distinguished for liberality to the poor, sympathy with the afflicted, forbearance and forgiveness of injuries, hospitality to strangers and a zeal in promoting the interests of religion.
In his public ministrations remarkably observant of the dispensations of divine Providence, and peculiarly happy in improving them for the spiritual benefit of his hearers.
In doctrine deep and instructive, in delivery solemn and impressive, in prayer copious and fervent.

His mourning widow in testimony of her sense of his worth, and affection for his memory erects this frail monument.

Copied from the slab in the Cemetery, near the chancel. A monument to the co-pastor, Rev. William Hollinshead, D.D., is erected in the Circular Church.

THIS MONUMENT
Is erected by this bereaved Congregation to the memory of their late pastor,

The Rev. ANTHONY FORSTER,

as a token of their affection,
and respect for his Character as a Man,
a Christian and a Minister.
As a Man he was distinguished for originality and vigour of mind, for discriminating judgment,
for simplicity and purity of character,
for correctness and elevation of moral feeling,
for ardent love of truth,
and intrepidity in its defence;
As a Christian he was rational, consistent, liberal, pious and devout;
As a Minister he was affectionate, faithful, judicious, and ardently devoted to the labours of his office.
His discourses were serious, practical,
and persuasive, addressed, by turns,
to every faculty of the mind,
and awakening the kindliest emotions of the heart.
This faithful servant of Christ, after enduring with exemplary patience and fortitude, the sufferings of a long protracted illness, expired at RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA,
January 18th, 1820; aged 35 years.

THIS TABLET

IS ERECTED BY THE CONGREGATION OF THIS CHURCH

IN AFFECTIONATE REMEMBRANCE OF THE LATE

REV. CHARLES MANSON TAGGART,

THEIR JUNIOR PASTOR,

WHO WAS BORN IN MONTREAL, CANADA, OCT. 31, 1821,

AND DIED IN THIS CITY, OCT. 22, 1854,

AT THE EARLY AGE OF 33 YEARS.

AS A MINISTER OF THE GOSPEL HE WAS EMINENTLY DISTINGUISHED FOR THE EARNESTNESS AND ELOQUENCE WITH WHICH HE ADVOCATED A SYSTEM OF PRACTICAL AND LIBERAL CHRISTIANITY, BASED UPON THE SIMPLE, PURE AND BEAUTIFUL TEACHINGS OF JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE CHRIST—THE ANOINTED MESSENGER OF GOD THE FATHER; WHILE AT THE SAME TIME HE EVINCED GREAT ORIGINALITY AND BOLDNESS IN ATTACKING THE NARROW CREEDS OF SECTARIANISM—THE INVENTIONS OF MEN.

AS A CHRISTIAN, HE EXHIBITED THE MOST FERVENT PIETY TOWARDS GOD, AND THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE CHARITY FOR HIS FELLOW-MEN; EVER INCULCATING IN HIS PUBLIC AND PRIVATE TEACHINGS THE PATERNITY OF GOD AND THE BROTHERHOOD OF MAN.

WE LIVE IN DEEDS, NOT YEARS; IN THOUGHTS, NOT BREATHS; IN FEELINGS, NOT IN FIGURES ON A DIAL.

HE MOST LIVES

WHO THINKS MOST, FEELS THE NOBLEST, ACTS THE BEST.

Sacred

TO THE MEMORY OF THE

REV. SAMUEL GILMAN, D.D.,

WHO SUCCEEDED THE

REV. ANTHONY FORSTER,

As Pastor of this Church,

DECEMBER 1ST, 1819,

AND DIED 9TH FEBRUARY, 1858,

AFTER A MINISTRY OF NEARLY

Forty Years.

AS AN APOSTLE OF JESUS CHRIST, HE MAGNIFIED

AND SANCTIFIED HIS OFFICE, BY A LIFE OF

Faith AND Works.

IN ALL THE RELATIONS OF LIFE, HIS WALK

AND CONVERSATION WERE A LIVING EPISTLE

OF Liberal Christianity, TO BE

READ OF ALL MEN.

DISTINGUISHED BY AN ARDENT LOVE FOR

THE GOOD, THE BEAUTIFTL, AND THE TRUE,

AND BY NATURE, EDUCATION AND GRACE, IN THE

POSSESSION OF SO MANY BLENDED VIRTUES

AND EXCELLENCES, IN HIM

"Mercy and truth met together,

Righteousness and peace kissed each other."

THIS GRATEFUL TRIBUTE TO A VENERATED PRESENCE,

WHICH, THOUGH DEAD YET SPEAKETH,

IS DICTATED BY THE AFFECTION OF A SORROWING CONGREGATION,

WHO HAVE KNOWN "How blessed a thing IT IS

FOR BRETHEREN TO DWELL TOGETHER IN UNITY."

"Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright."

Rev. JAMES R. McFARLAND.

Sufficient time has not yet elapsed for the erection of a monument to this gifted servant of Christ, but erelong "the silent column will lift itself beautifully, amid storm and sunshine, an unwearied preacher; and the pulseless marble shall flash a glow of inspiration in upon our souls."*

The young Pastor elect was born in Charleston, Kanawha Co., Virginia, on the 17th December, 1829, and was to have been Installed over the Unitarian Church, in this city, November, 1858.

"While travelling in Virginia, in August, he ruptured a blood-vessel of the lungs.

"Heaven heard the prayer he uttered in his anguish, and he died 'in the midst of a loving and beloved flock,' April, 1859.

"No stolid indifference sustained him through his sad and weary hours. His was a calmness full of feeling, yet a feeling so far removed from passion by his firm faith, so refined by prayer, and so subdued to the will of his Father in Heaven, that it only exhibited itself in a moving earnestness of soul, the more affecting for its quiet dignity. There was a lesson taught at his bedside—a lesson of immortality."†

"He passed through the valley of shadows in the light of a Divine Hope, and 'the Name that is above every name' was the last that fell from his lips."

Vestibule of the Church.

Sacred to the Memory of

MRS. MARTHA SAVAGE, widow of Major WILLIAM SAVAGE, and daughter of The Hon. ISAAC HOLMES.
Born in the city of Charleston, where she died on the 5th of August, 1824, in her Eighty-second year.

Taught in her infancy to adore her Creator, piety advanced with her age, and was the comfort and decoration of a Patriarchal life. For sixty years with undissembled devotion, she partook the solemn sacrament, commemorative of her Saviour's agony, and expiatory death.
Adversity distinguished her with many a severe visitation, yet fortitude never failed, and these dispensations were received with a submission, which declared her conviction, that they came from that Being, whose right it is to favour us with blessings, or try us with Calamity.
No impious murmurings of unholy and presumptuous pride, were extorted by distress, but a duteous acquiescence under the will of Heaven, mitigated the pungency of grief.
She saw that the desolation of Winter, was succeeded by the luxuriant verdure, and fragrant elegancies of Spring;
and practically believed, that the God of Christians, could "Make her wilderness like Eden, and her Desert like the garden of the Lord."

Also of

Miss ELIZABETH SAVAGE,
who died on the 12th November, 1818.
In this lady were united exemplary love to her parent, with the most unvarying affection towards her Sister, and she was characterized alike by amiableness of temper, and urbanity of deportment.

This memorial, placed by her who remains to mourn the double bereavement of a parent venerated for her virtues,
Of a Sister whose attachment never knew abatement.

In the occupations of commerce, which for 42 years he steadily pursued,
he was respected equally for his talents, Industry, and Integrity.

His Patriotism

early embarked him in that revolution, which gave Independence to his Country.
Resolutely encountering the fatigues of service,
Patiently submitting to the loss of his property,
and firmly sustaining, with a band of his compatriots,
a painful Exile to ST AUGUSTINE.
In the Legislature, and as President of the Senate,
He was honored with the public confidence.

As a Husband and Father

He was distinguished for tenderness and affection, and united a large circle of connections
In the bonds of harmony and love.
As a citizen revered, valued as a friend,
and for equanimity and benevolence no less esteemed,
He sunk into the tomb full of years and honor,
with a mind placid, from a life well spent,
and a lively faith in his Blessed Redeemer.

SACRED TO THE MEMORY
of
MRS SELINA KEITH GREEN, Wife of THOMAS P. GREEN, and Mother of the Revd. J Mercier Green,
Born 4th February 1804
Died 12th March 1858.

She died, having the testimony of a good conscience, in the communion of the Catholic Church, in the Confidence of a Certain Faith, in the Comfort of a reasonable, Religious and holy Hope, in favor with her God, and in perfect Charity with the world.

I heard a Voice from Heaven saying unto me, Write, from Henceforth, Blessed are the dead who die in the LORD, even so saith the SPIRIT, for they rest from their labors.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost, as it was in the Beginning, is now, and ever shall be,
World without end,
Amen.

Near this Spot repose the Remains of her Honored and Revered Parents, the late MR CHARLES J & MRS ANN SNOWDEN, of Charleston.
And also, her only Daughter, S K GREEN.

Sacred
To the memory of SAMUEL SMITH jr.
a native of Massachusetts, who departed this life on the 5th day of October, 1812, in the 36th yr of his age, after a long and painful illness which he bore with Christian fortitude and Resignation.

An honest man's the noblest work of God.

Sacred to the memory
of
MRS SUSANNA VERCEREAU TENNENT, who died April 10th 1795 Æ 53, Relict of
Rev. WILLIAM TENNENT, A.M.

She was of a cheerful temper
and amiable dispositions,
Constant in her friendship,
To her relations
Tenderly and strongly attached,
Given to hospitality,
To the poor liberal,
To her servants kind,
Prudent and discreet,
Of engaging manners,
And fervent piety.
Her life was upright,
And her end peace.

This FRAIL Monument
Covers the mortal part
of
JOHN GRIMBALL esqr.
who died Nov. 8th 1804
aged 53 years.
Endeared by an excellency of character to many surviving friends, and embalmed in the bosoms of an affectionate family, from whose recollection his domestic virtues can never be obliterated, he will be had in everlasting remembrance. He sleeps in Jesus, till the Resurrection of the just.

Rev. ISAAC STOCKTON KEITH.*

MINGLED WITH HIS REMAINS
lie those of his wife, JANE KEITH,
who died in an illness, of but a few minutes duration, on the 11th of Feb. A.D. 1849,
Aged 76 years, 11 months.
A member for 60 yrs of the Church, of which her husband was Pastor, she took a lively interest in every thing connected with it, always ready with strenuous efforts and means to contribute to its prosperity.
As a Christian, she was cheerful and consistent,
as a friend to the poor, she was distinguished for liberality.
As a philanthropist, she devoted her energies and means to the promotion of the Gospel, which, in her judgment, was the best contribution she could make towards the melioration of mankind.
As a sincere and dear friend, her memory will long be cherished, by a very large circle of devoted friends, to whose number the circumstance of her being the Widow of so beloved a Pastor and citizen, added many others, only to be held by her peculiar social qualities, and confiding disposition, in the firmest bonds of intimacy and love.

In memory

of MRS HANNAH SPROAT KEITH,

wife of the Rev. Doctor Isaac S. Keith,

and daughter of the Rev. DR JAMES SPROAT,

& SARAH SMITH SPROAT.

Endowed with an excellent understanding, and amiable temper, and highly cultivated by a refined and religious education, she was still more happily distinguished, by the graces and virtues, which form the Christian Character.
In early life she exhibited the evidences of an unfeigned faith in her Redeemer, and through her succeeding years, She adorned with growing lustre her profession of his Gospel.
Of an humble, meek, and peaceable spirit, of a fervent piety, and generous charity, of a prudent zeal in doing good, of a cheerful submission and patience in suffering affliction, of a faithful, affectionate discharge of every social duty,
She was a bright and lovely example.
From a life eminently devoted
To her God and Saviour,
She was removed on earth by death, to that rest, which remaineth for the people of God, on the 13th day of Sep., A. D. 1796, in the 46th yr of her age.

"To her to live was Christ, and to die was gain."

of
JAMES BADGER, Senr.
A native of BOSTON, N. E.
who departed this life
Sep 15th A. D. 1817, aged 60 yrs, 1 mo, & 15 days.

At the age of 20 Mr B emigrated to this city; in the year 1788 he was chosen Clerk and Sexton of the Archdale Independent Church, and for 30 years ably and faithfully discharged the duties of that office. As a member of this community he was useful, as a Husband tender, as a Father affectionate, as a master indulgent, and as a Friend sincere. As a Teacher of Sacred Music
he indefatigably laboured to promote that useful science.
For many years he was a member in communion with this Church, and was exemplary in his piety.

Jesus, the Vision of thy face
Hath overpowering charms;
Scarce shall I feel death's cold embrace,
If Christ be in my arms.

Then while ye hear my heart-strings break,
How sweet my minutes roll!
A mortal paleness on my cheek,
And Glory in my soul.

Pray do not weep or grieve for me,
You know I must go home.—
I was upon a visit here,
And now I must return.

Erected in Memory
MRS MARGARET KEITH
Obt April 15th 1816,
Æ 41 yrs, 10 mo, & 20 days.

As a wife she was affectionate,
as a Mother tender and instructive,
and as a friend truly sincere.
During a lingering and painful illness, she never murmured at the dispensation of God towards her, but felt resigned to his will, and with cheerfulness left this vale of tears, for the enjoyment of that home, where the wicked cease from troubling, and the weary are at rest.

Ye fleeting charms of earth farewell,
Your springs of joy are dry;
Thy soul now seeks another home,
A brighter one on high.

This
Stone is erected in Memory of

GEORGE E. HAHNBAUM,

the only child of Doct CHRISTIAN B HAHNBAUM,
who died March 20th 1825,
aged 39 years.
He was unassuming in his manners,
strong in his attachments,
disinterested in his benevolence,
exemplary in his conduct,
inflexible in his principles,
and ardent in his piety.
He died in the faith of that Gospel, which he professed and honored for many years, cordially reposing all his hopes of Heaven on the atonement and merit of his Redeemer, and declaring with his latest breath, that "Jesus was precious to his soul."

Jesus can make a dying bed Feel soft as downy pillows are,
While on his breast I lean my head,
And breathe my life out sweetly there.

Consecrated
To the Memory of the Rev DONALD McLEOD DD,
Who departed this life
Jan 30th AD 1821,
In the 60th Year of his age.
Few men have descended to the tomb more regretted
by an extensive circle
of acquaintance,
than this
LEARNED AND ACCOMPLISHED
DIVINE.
With a mind
strong, comprehensive,
and aspiring,
he united
those traits of character, which adorned
The husband, father, and friend.
In his death
Science and Literature
have cause to mourn,
and pure and liberal Christianity,
to deplore
the loss of an able Advocate.
His morning was bright—his noon splendid—
his evening serene.
As over him
Death obtained no ordinary
conquest,
so frail mortality is more strongly reminded of that irreversible decree;
*"Dust thou art
and unto dust shalt thou return."*

DEATH.

13 yrs, 1 mo, and 19 days,

Terminated the existence of Master

CHARLES CLEARY.

Hapless boy! on the 31st of May, 1813, accidentally fell from the lofty walls of St. Paul's Church, when the immortal part instantly ascended to the Church triumphant on high, the abode of unimbodied Spirits, from whose bourne no traveller returns.
Bereaved Parents, Brothers and Sisters,
Also, ye youthful Companions, Come hither, Behold the narrow Lodging.
Read, go away, Reflect, return again,
and view the early fate of your beloved

CHARLES.

In the 33d year of her age.

This Marble
is erected by the bereaved and disconsolate parents
of

SUSAN ELIZABETH DICKENSON,

Daughter of

FRANCIS and RACHEL DICKENSON,

who departed this life, on the 4th October, 1821.
Aged 20 years, and 9 months.

She was in life a lovely example of all those virtues, which adorn the female Character.
To her parents she was an affectionate and obedient Child,
To their younger offspring, as a tender Mother,
To her friends sincere and affectionate,
To the poor charitable,
To all gentle and courteous,
And to her Maker,
devoted.
Her pure spirit has left this Earth,
which her loveliness adorned for Heaven.
Her Death excited in the Community an universal Sympathy.
The disease which terminated her existence,
was contracted by attending, unremittingly, the couch of a dying Brother, who preceded her on their heaven-ward journey, on the 23d of September.

to the memory
of
COL FRANCIS DICKENSON,
who died in Charleston,
on the 30th December, 1835,
aged 63 years.
A devoted husband,
an affectionate Father,
a faithful Friend,
a kind Master,
and a worthy member of Society,
He at length arrived,
through many trials,
and an earnest search after Truth,
At peace and hope in Death.

NINA DICKENSON
FELL ASLEEP IN JESUS,
November 13th 1858.
AGED 21 YEARS and 9 MONTHS.

GREAT PEACE HAVE THEY WHICH LOVE THY LAW.
YEA, THOUGH I WALK THROUGH THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW OF DEATH,
I WILL FEAR NO EVIL,
FOR THOU ART WITH ME,
THY ROD AND THY STAFF
THEY COMFORT ME.

Calm on the bosom of thy God,
Fair Spirit, rest thee now;
E'en while on earth thy footsteps trod,
His seal was on thy brow.
Dust to its narrow house beneath,
Soul to its place on high;
They that have seen thy look in death,
No more may fear to die.

In memory of

BEULAH C P BILLINGS,

The daughter of SAMUEL and ELIZABETH BILLINGS,

Who departed this life Sep 26th 1805, aged 3 years, 2 months, & eight days.

My lovely babe in infant bloom
Rests happy, safe within her tomb,
No sorrow can her charms devour,
No blight annoy my beauteous flower,
No guilt can fall upon her head,
With innocence my Beulah's fled.
Disease can ne'er invade her form,
Preserved by Heaven from every storm.

In memory of

MRS SUSANNAH WADSWORTH,

formerly of Massachusetts,

who departed this life

March 6th, 1805,

aged 72 years.

Let this vain world engage no more—

Behold the gaping tomb,

It bids us seize the present hour,

To-morrow Death may come.

Beneath THIS STONE rest
the earthly remains of THOMAS WADSWORTH Esqr, and JANE
his wife,
who departed this life within a fortnight of each other, of the yellow fever, in September 1799.

They derived their origin from respectable families in the STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS, NEW ENGLAND;
and had resided many years in this country, filling the various stations allotted them by Providence, with much credit to themselves, and usefulness to society. Enjoying the full confidence of his fellow citizens, he was appointed to several public Offices, and at the time of his Death was one of the Wardens of this city.
Having, by honest industry, acquired a handsome property, he bequeathed a large proportion towards establishing a FREE SCHOOL in the interior of the State, for the education of poor and friendless children;
and also extended the hand of benevolence towards that part of the family, committed to his charge, who were not in a situation to help themselves, thereby enabling them to live comfortable and happy. He was ever the firm supporter of the rights of Man, and firmly attached to a republican form of government, as secured to the Citizens of this Country by the constitution of the United States.

What is there here to fill these vast desires?
Should fancy all her dazzling scenes display,
Our wishes, unconfined, would wander still Beyond the limits of these narrow skies,
In search of boundless and immortal joy.

This tablet

affectionate remembrance

of MR AARON HARDY,

of Boston, Mass.

who died, in this city,

Nov. 14th 1816,

Though here no kindred dust may sleep,
No friend here pay the tributary tear,
For thee shall distant friendship weep,
And faithful memory mournful linger here.
Pious and useful as thy life be mine,
Serene and peaceful, my last hours, like thine.
May Angels guard the hallowed dust,
Where a loved Husband, friend and father lies,
When the last trump shall wake the just,
Mayst thou to endless bliss and glory rise.

* Since this volume was in press, a monument has been raised in the Cemetery with the above Inscription.

† A slab has been recetly dug up with this Inscription, and placed by the monument of John Bennett, near the Chancel.

[As this work originated in contemplating the testimonials of affection to the "Pastor," the following extract from a discourse delivered by Rev. George G. Ingersoll, D. D., in the Unitarian Church, on the Sabbath succeeding the second anniversary of his death, may not inappropriately close the volume.]

TEXT.—I have finished the work which Thou gavest me to do.—JOHN xvii. 4.

These words, in an interrogative form, we might propose to ourselves with peculiar fitness, every day; on the Sabbath, when the cares and joys of our outer life are put aside, and we come thus more closely to God; on our birth-day, when they seem forced upon us, without asking our consent; on the death of some loved or honored friend, when the heart is aching under the blow, and the mind labors with the thought,—What was he, and what am I? Did he finish the work given to him to do? Am I finishing my work?

Such a day has occurred since we last assembled for worship in this house; a day marked with the dark and mournful sign of his death, who belongs, not only to yourselves, but to the community in which he lived. Need I speak his name, need I add the relation in which he stood to you—your Pastor—the second anniversary of whose death was on the Thursday of the past week. Need I do more than repeat the name of SAMUEL GILMAN, and leave your own hearts to supply the rest? For what could thoughts of mine, or words of mine, do to touch those hearts which are still so tremblingly alive to the sense of their great loss?

When I came among you, some few weeks since, I was much struck with the freshness of your sorrow. How many men, those of worth and even of high standing in the community, almost pass from memory within the compass of two years; and though not entirely forgotten, become partially so by the pressure of other thoughts. But here, almost every house I entered, had something to awaken remembrance of him; almost every voice I heard, had some tribute of affection and respect to utter; so that I could not but repeat the sentiment inscribed on one of the marbles in your cemetery, "To live forever in the hearts of loving friends, is not to die."

I knew Dr. Gilman many years since, during the period of our college lives—he a tutor, and I a student—a relation preventing a closer acquaintance than a kind greeting and conversation. I was well acquainted with his position as one of a distinguished class, and his standing as a man of letters; though of him, as a preacher, I could, of course, know but little. It was here that the professional character was developed, which grew with his growth, and strengthened with his strength, until it ripened into the revered counsellor, the Christian orator, the indefatigable pastor, the well read theologian, the accomplished divine.

I might speak of him as a man of warm and kind heart, genial spirit, blameless conversation, cordial manner, and social feeling, which made him, at once, beloved and respected. I might describe him as the citizen, ever ready with pen and hand to help on the work of the general good. I might dwell on his character as a scholar of various attainments, deep research and polished grace, rich thought and airy fancy, which so well fitted him for a purely literary life. But, on this day, in this place on which I stand, it is to him, as the preacher, the pastor, the advocate of a pure and undefiled religion, that I would refer. And how can I do more than this? Looking, as I do, from an outside position, how cold and pointless may seem what I now utter, compared with those full tributes which his death called forth, not only from his professional brethren, but from almost every class of those who knew him well.

The religious paper and secular print, the religious magazine and the literary journal, the theological review and the scientific periodical, as well as the sermon of the Sabbath, all united in the sorrowful notice of his decease, and in the respectful and tender eulogy of his character. The tablet at my side, the monument in what he himself called "the flower-crowned cemetery," all these speak to you of him; remind you of him, as if they would never let his memory die.

And is not this enough? His Christian course was run, and was not the work given him here to do, finished? In his modest humility he would not have said so himself; rather would he have mourned that he had done so little. As he once said in a sermon which I heard him preach, early in life, in the beginning of his ministerial course—"Who is sufficient for these things."

It is true the work here given him to do was a great work; but others, who looked on the spirit in which he labored, and the actual amount he wrought, would say that he at least had well finished his course. Others could say of him, he fought a good fight, he kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for him a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give him at that day, when he will bestow on those who have labored faithfully upon the earth, the approving commendation, "Well done good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

NOTE.—Blank pages, with the various headings, have been added to the Inscriptions, for the convenience of those who desire to continue the system.

NOTE.—It appears that the irregularity of punctuation referred to in the early part of this volume, arises from the action of time, dust, light and shadow, and other accidents, and not from inaccuracy in the original carving. In a work of this kind, it would be more advisable to follow the ordinary rules of punctuation.

NOTE.—The vignette sketch of the monument is from a photograph, taken in November, when the leaves of the deciduous forest trees had fallen, but the ornamental shrubs were in bloom.
